

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
IAFF 190.12: US SECURITY POLICY

Professor Leon Fuerth
Phone: 994-8921
Office: Stuart Hall, Room 402M
Assistant: Rebecca Landis
E-mail: rlandis@gwu.edu

Spring Semester 2002
Wednesdays, 4:10-6:00pm
Course meets in Monroe B05
For appointments-- email Rebecca
Phone: 994-4543

All of your course readings will be emailed to you weekly. Any readings not available by e-mail will be made available for photocopy in Stuart 402Q. Additional readings may be added throughout the semester.

Course Requirements:

On all written materials please pay special attention to sentence structure and grammar!

Writing Assignment: Due February 13

Mid-term paper: Due March 13

Final: Memo to the President (6pgs, single spaced): Due April 17

Mock NSC meeting: April 24

Class Participation

4-6 2x stories → with friends -/top
based on a Dean topic

Required Books: To be read at your own pace in its entirety over the course of the semester.

Hyland, William G. "Clinton's World: Remaking American Foreign Policy." Praeger: Westport, CT: 1999. Lake, Anthony. "6 Nightmares: Real Threats in a Dangerous World and How America Can Meet Them." Time Warner: 2000.

Recommended Reading:

Holbrooke, Richard. "To End A War." Random House: New York: 1999.
Gore, Al. "Earth in Balance: Ecology and the Human Spirit." Plume: 1993.

Course Schedule:

January 16: Starting Points 1992 / 2000

Readings:

- 1) Berger, Samuel R. "A Foreign Policy for the Global Age" Foreign Affairs. Nov/Dec 2000.
- 2) "Clinton's Foreign Policy." Foreign Policy. January 2001.
- 3) Halberstam, David. "Clinton and the Generals." In Vanity Fair. Sept 2001. (Paper copy available in Stuart 402Q)
- 4) Hormats, Robert D. "The Roots of American Power." Foreign Affairs, Summer 1991.
- 5) Krauthammer, Charles. "The Unipolar Moment." Foreign Affairs. Summer 1990-1991.
- 6) Lake, Anthony. "Confronting Backlash States." Foreign Affairs. Mar/Apr 1994
- 7) Mandelbaum, Michael. "The Bush Foreign Policy." Foreign Affairs. Summer 1990-1991.